An important message from Abbott

Through the Abbott Laboratories Stock Retirement Plan (Puerto Rico) (the “SRP” or “Plan”), Abbott helps you invest in your future and build financial strength for you and your family. As we announced earlier this year, Abbott is making thoughtful enhancements to how we administer the SRP.

Effective January 1, 2026, Fidelity Investments® will be the new recordkeeper for the SRP. We are making this change to provide best-in-class customer service, robust online tools and enhanced educational resources to help you plan for and manage your retirement.

Once the move to Fidelity is complete, you can continue to access the SRP by phone at 844-306-9222. Additionally, you can contact Fidelity directly by calling 844-528-1240 and access your SRP account directly via Fidelity’s NetBenefits® site or mobile app once the blackout period ends.

As the SRP transitions to Fidelity, most features of the Plan are not changing. For example, you can still invest in the SRP each pay period as you have before, and Abbott will still contribute to the SRP as we have before. And, the investment options offered under the SRP are not changing. Abbott remains committed to helping you build financial security through programs including the SRP.

This guide outlines what you can expect in this transition. For more information, including FAQs and educational resources, please visit myfidelitysite.com/abbott.

Regards,

Sean Treacy

Divisional Vice President, Compensation and Benefits

IMPORTANT NOTE

The timing of the plan changes and transition period, including any asset reallocations, described within this guide depends on a variety of factors, which may include: the timing and accuracy of the transfer of data, receipt of instructions and receipt of assets. Changes in any of these factors may result in changes to the timing of the delivery of services, the transition period and/or the dates on which, and thus the prices at which, assets in your account are sold and/or reinvested, if applicable.

Other transition details

Account lock and security features

If you currently have an account lock on your SRP account with Alight, this will not transfer when the SRP transitions to Fidelity (Abbott Retirement Benefits Center). If you would like to have an “account lock” on your SRP account as an additional control so no new distributions can be made from your account, call Fidelity directly at 844-528-1240 after the blackout period ends.

In addition to “account lock,” Fidelity employs several methods of securing accounts, including:

- Multi-factor authentication (MFA). MFA provides an added layer of protection by verifying your identity, beyond your username and password. When you establish your account on NetBenefits.com, you will be able to set your preferred method of authentication, and you can update those preferences anytime (access the Security Center via Profile & Settings on NetBenefits.com).
- Security alerts by text message. Security alerts help to safeguard your account by notifying you quickly when there is a change to your account (for example, if your profile or login information changes). You will be automatically enrolled to receive these security alerts if you have provided a mobile phone number to Alight (because the mobile phone number you provided to Alight will transfer to Fidelity). If you have not provided a mobile phone number to Alight, you can add one in NetBenefits.com (access Personal & Contact Information via Profile & Settings) and once you do, you will be enrolled to receive security alerts via text message.
- Other access restrictions. In addition to “account lock,” Fidelity offers other types of account restrictions. If you are interested in exploring other options, call Fidelity at 844-528-1240 after the blackout period ends to learn more.

Once the blackout periods ends, you can explore Fidelity’s Security Center, accessible via Profile & Settings on NetBenefits.com. There, you can learn about more steps you can take to protect your account, monitor online access to your account, and more.

Account statements

Your final 2025 SRP account statement will be provided by Alight in late January 2026. Participants will be able to see their transferred balance as “Balance Forward” on NetBenefits® in both their Transaction History and the online statement (or paper statement from Fidelity).

Your first quarterly statement from Fidelity will be available online at NetBenefits.com starting in April 2026. Statements will not be mailed to your home automatically. To change your preferences and request that statements be mailed to you, log in to your SRP account at NetBenefits.com, select the Profile & Settings icon, then Communication. Or call Fidelity (Abbott Retirement Benefits Center).

Beneficiary designations

Beneficiary information that was on file or received and approved by Alight (Abbott Benefits Center) as of December 24, 2025, at 1 p.m. ET will transfer automatically in the transition to Fidelity (Abbott Retirement Benefits Center). So it’s a good idea to review your beneficiary information currently on file with Alight (Abbott Benefits Center) to ensure that it is up-to-date.

Once the blackout period has ended, you can log in to NetBenefits.com or call Fidelity (Abbott Retirement Benefits Center) to confirm your beneficiary designations have been transferred and make any updates. With Fidelity’s Online Beneficiaries Service, you can designate your beneficiaries, receive instant online confirmation and check your beneficiary information virtually at any time.

Contribution elections

If you are enrolled in the SRP by 1 p.m. ET on December 24, 2025, your contribution election (pre-tax, after-tax and/or catch-up) will transition automatically to Fidelity (Abbott Retirement Benefits Center). If you haven’t enrolled in the SRP by December 24, 2025, at 1 p.m. ET, you can enroll once the blackout period has ended.

Employee-elected automatic contribution increase

If you have elected to automatically increase your SRP contribution rate, that election will transition to Fidelity (Abbott Retirement Benefits Center), unless your election was to increase more than one contribution source (e.g., both pre-tax and after-tax contributions). In that case, your automatic increase election at Fidelity will be applied to only one contribution source, as described below.

If your current election on file at Alight is to automatically increase:	In the transition to Fidelity, your automatic increase will apply to:	And the rate of increase at Fidelity will be your increase rate on file at Alight for:
Only pre-tax	Pre-tax contributions	Pre-tax increase rate
Only after-tax	After-tax contribution	After-tax increase rate
Both pre-tax and after-tax	Pre-tax contributions	Pre-tax increase rate

Fidelity’s Annual Increase Program doesn’t have a maximum contribution limit. So your contribution rate will continue to increase automatically each year, based on your election, up to the applicable pre-tax and after-tax contribution limits. To change or end your automatic increase election, visit NetBenefits.com after the transition is complete.

Installment payments

If you are scheduled to receive an installment payment during the blackout period, your payment will be distributed after the blackout period ends. You will receive your installment payments by check at your home address on file with Fidelity (Abbott Retirement Benefits Center) until you reestablish your banking information with Fidelity.

Investment options

The investment options offered under the SRP are not changing. Your investment elections on file as of December 24, 2025, at 1 p.m. ET, will transition automatically to Fidelity, so you don’t need to take action. For details, visit the transition website at myfidelitysite.com/abbott.

Loans

As part of this transition, Fidelity will become the provider of administration services for any outstanding SRP loans.

- If you are an active Abbott employee participating in the SRP, or you are on a paid leave, you will continue to repay your loans in the SRP in the same manner as you have previously with Alight (Abbott Benefits Center). The transition will not affect the terms or length of your loans.*
- If you are a former employee or are on an unpaid leave and are repaying outstanding loan(s) in the SRP, your banking information on file with Alight (Abbott Benefits Center) will transfer to Fidelity (Abbott Retirement Benefits Center). Your loan repayments will continue to be deducted from your bank account once the blackout period ends. To confirm that your banking information transferred or to make any updates, log in to NetBenefits.com after the blackout period ends and select Bank/Tax Information from the Quick Links drop-down menu. The blackout period is expected to end the week of January 11.

As a reminder, you can also send a cashier's check or money order to Fidelity to pay your loan partially or in full once the blackout period ends.

*Loan repayments received during the blackout period will be invested in the PIMCO Short Asset Investment Fund Institutional Class until the blackout period ends. At that time, loan repayments and any associated earnings will be posted to your account according to your investment elections on file with Fidelity. If you do not have any elections on file, your loan repayments and any associated earnings will be invested in the appropriate State Street Target Retirement Non-Lending Series Fund (Class P) based on your age (the SRP's designated default investment option).

What's not changing?

The SRP still offers you a convenient and tax-advantaged way to save and invest for your future.

- ✓ You can still contribute to the SRP every pay period, as you have done before, up to applicable limits.
 - ✓ When you contribute to the SRP, Abbott will continue contributing as we have before.
 - ✓ You can still choose from the same investment options within the SRP that are available to you today.

By investing in the SRP, you can provide an important source of retirement income for you and your family.

Important blackout period notice

To ensure that all information is transferred accurately from your current SRP account at Alight to your account at Fidelity, there will be a period of time when you will be unable to direct or diversify investments in your individual accounts or obtain a loan or distribution from the SRP.

This period, during which you will be unable to exercise your rights otherwise available under the SRP, is called a “blackout period.” The blackout period begins as outlined below:

December 24, 2025 at 1 p.m. ET

Last day to enroll in the SRP, change your contribution rate, change how your future contributions will be invested and make or change beneficiary designations.

December 30, 2025 at 4 p.m. ET

Last day to request a distribution involving the Abbott Common Stock Fund or AbbVie Common Stock Fund and request a general purpose loan.

December 29, 2025 at 4 p.m. ET

Last day to exchange (transfer) between investment options involving the Abbott Common Stock Fund or AbbVie Common Stock Fund. Last day for Alight to receive and approve paperwork for a primary residence loan, rollover into the SRP and loan repayments by check.

December 31, 2025 at 4 p.m. ET

Last day to exchange (transfer) between investment options and request a distribution not involving the Abbott Common Stock Fund or AbbVie Common Stock Fund, and to check your account balance.

The blackout period is expected to end during the week of January 11, 2026. During this time, you can determine whether the blackout period has started or ended by contacting Fidelity at 844-528-1240.

Because you will be unable to direct or diversify your SRP balance during the blackout period, it is very important that you review and consider the appropriateness of your current investments. For your long-term retirement security, you should give careful consideration to the importance of a well-balanced and diversified investment portfolio, taking into account all your assets, income and investments.

You should be aware that there is a risk to holding substantial portions of your account in the securities of any one company, as individual securities tend to have wider price swings, up and down, in short periods of time, than investments in diversified funds.

Stocks that have wide price swings might have a large loss during the blackout period, and you would not be able to direct the sale of such stocks from your account during the blackout period.

Whether or not you are planning retirement in the near future, we encourage you to carefully consider how this blackout period may affect your retirement planning and your overall financial plan.

If you have any questions concerning this notice, you should contact Fidelity at 844-528-1240 or P.O. Box 770001, Cincinnati, OH 45277.

Before investing in any mutual fund, consider the investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. Contact Fidelity for a prospectus or, if available, a summary prospectus containing this information. Read it carefully.

Investing involves risk, including risk of loss.

All rights to benefits under the SRP are governed by the legal plan documents, and SRP benefits are paid only if provided for in the legal plan documents. If there is any conflict between the information in this guide and the language in the legal plan documents, the terms of the legal plan documents will control. There may be changes to the SRP in the future. Abbott reserves the right to amend, modify or terminate the SRP, in whole or in part, at any time for any reason. Nothing in this guide constitutes a contract for, or guarantee of, any level of compensation or benefits or continued or future employment with Abbott or any related company.
