Columbia Contrarian Core Fund Institutional 3 Class

Ticker: COFYX

Gross expense ratio: 0.61% as of 01/01/2026

Objective: The investment seeks total return, consisting of long-term capital appreciation and current income.

Strategy: Under normal circumstances, the fund invests at least 80% of its net assets (including the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes) in common stocks. In addition, under normal circumstances, it invests at least 80% of its net assets in equity securities of U.S. companies that have large market capitalizations (generally over $2 billion) that the fund's investment manager believes are undervalued and have the potential for long-term growth and current income. The fund may also invest up to 20% of its net assets in foreign securities.

Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation. Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

The analysis on these pages may be based, in part, on adjusted historical returns for periods prior to the class's actual inception of 11/08/2012. These calculated returns reflect the historical performance of the oldest share class of the fund, with an inception date of 12/14/1992, adjusted to reflect the fees and expenses of this share class (when this share class's fees and expenses are higher.) Please refer to a fund's prospectus for information regarding fees and expenses. These adjusted historical returns are not actual returns. Calculation methodologies utilized by Morningstar may differ from those applied by other entities, including the fund itself.

DFA Emerging Markets Core Equity 2 Portfolio Institutional Class

Ticker: DFCEX

Gross expense ratio: 0.4% as of 02/28/2025

Objective: The investment seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Strategy: The Portfolio purchases a broad and diverse group of securities associated with emerging markets, which may include frontier markets (emerging market countries in an earlier stage of development), authorized for investment by the Advisor's Investment Committee ("Approved Markets"). It may gain exposure to companies in Approved Markets by purchasing equity securities in the form of depositary receipts, which may be listed or traded outside the issuer's domicile country.

Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing in emerging markets. Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments and/or international investments in developed countries with investments in developing countries, which can behave differently.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

DFA Global Real Estate Securities Portfolio

Ticker: DFGEX

Gross expense ratio: 0.28% as of 02/28/2025

Objective: The investment seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Strategy: The Portfolio seeks to achieve exposure to a broad portfolio of securities of U.S. and non-U.S. companies in the real estate industry, with a focus on real estate investment trusts ("REITs") or companies that the Advisor considers to be REIT-like entities. It may pursue its investment objective by investing its assets in the DFA Real Estate Securities Portfolio, DFA International Real Estate Securities Portfolio (the "underlying funds"), and/or directly in securities of companies in the real estate industry.

Risk: Real Estate is a cyclical industry that is sensitive to interest rates, economic conditions (both nationally and locally), property tax rates, and other factors. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings and is comfortable with the greater risk typically associated with investments tied to the value of holding, managing, and developing real estate. Someone who is willing to accept the lower diversification and potentially higher risk of investments concentrated in the real estate industry.

DFA U.S. Small Cap Growth Portfolio Institutional Class

Ticker: DSCGX

Gross expense ratio: 0.32% as of 02/28/2025

Objective: The investment seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation.

Strategy: The Portfolio, using a market capitalization weighted approach, purchases a broad and diverse group of readily marketable securities of U.S. small cap companies that the Advisor determines to have high profitability and relative prices compared to other U.S. small cap companies at the time of purchase. As a non-fundamental policy, under normal circumstances, it will invest at least 80% of its net assets in securities of small cap U.S. companies.

Risk: The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation. Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated both with growth-oriented stocks and with smaller companies.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

DFA U.S. Targeted Value Portfolio Institutional Class

Ticker: DFFVX

Gross expense ratio: 0.3% as of 02/28/2025

Objective: The investment seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Strategy: The fund purchases a broad and diverse group of the readily marketable securities of U.S. small and mid cap companies that the advisor determines to be value stocks with higher profitability. It may purchase or sell futures contracts and options on futures contracts for U.S. equity securities and indices, to increase or decrease equity market exposure based on actual or expected cash inflows to or outflows from the fund.

Risk: The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation. Someone who is comfortable with value-style investments and the potentially greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Federated Hermes MDT Large Cap Growth Fund Class R6 Shares

Ticker: QRLGX

Gross expense ratio: 0.79% as of 09/30/2025

Objective: The investment seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Strategy: The fund invests primarily in the common stock of large-sized U.S. companies. The investment adviser's investment strategy utilizes a large-cap growth approach by selecting most of its investments from companies listed in the Russell 1000® Growth Index. The fund will invest its assets so that at least 80% of its net assets (plus any borrowings for investment purposes) are invested in large-cap investments.

Risk: Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation. Someone who is willing to accept the generally greater price volatility associated with growth-oriented stocks.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

The Russell 1000® Growth Index is an unmanaged market capitalization-weighted index of growth-oriented stocks of the largest U.S. domiciled companies that are included in the Russell 1000 Index. Growth-oriented stocks tend to have higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values.

Federated Hermes MDT Mid Cap Growth Fund Class R6 Shares

Ticker: FGSKX

Gross expense ratio: 0.88% as of 12/31/2025

Objective: The investment seeks appreciation of capital.

Strategy: The fund invests primarily in domestic, mid cap common stocks that offer superior growth prospects. Its manager considers mid cap companies to be those of a size similar to companies listed in the Russell Midcap Growth Index. The fund will invest its assets so that at least 80% of its net assets (plus any borrowing for investment purposes) are invested in mid cap investments.

Risk: Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Fidelity Freedom® 2010, 2015, 2020 Fund Class K6

Ticker: FOTKX, FPTKX, FATKX

Gross expense ratio: 0.24 - 0.28% as of 05/30/2025

Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the fund's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Strategy: Designed for investors who have retired or expect to retire in or within a few years of the fund's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a "neutral" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Freedom Retirement Fund approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the fund may merge with the Freedom Retirement Fund. Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. A revised neutral asset allocation strategy for the fund is expected to take effect by the end of the first quarter of 2027. During the fourth quarter of 2025, the Adviser will begin transitioning the neutral asset allocation percentages to achieve the desired allocations. Buying and selling futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the neutral asset allocations by up to 10% for equity, bond and short-term funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Fund products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Fund changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the Investment Adviser. Pursuant to the Adviser's ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the fund's neutral asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. No target date fund is considered a complete retirement program and there is no guarantee any single fund will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in or very near retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market. Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Fidelity Freedom® Retirement Fund Class K6

Ticker: FYTKX

Gross expense ratio: 0.24% as of 05/30/2025

Objective: Seeks high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Strategy: Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity funds, international equity funds, bond funds, and short-term funds (underlying Fidelity funds). Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity funds according to a stable "neutral" asset allocation strategy. A revised neutral asset allocation strategy (approximately 17% in U.S. equity funds, 11% in international equity funds, 2% in commodity funds, 37% in U.S. investment grade bond funds, 5% in international bond funds, 2% in long-term treasury bond funds, 21% in short-term inflation-protected bond funds, and 6% in short-term funds; allocations do not add to 100% due to rounding) is expected to take effect by the end of the first quarter of 2027. During the fourth quarter of 2025, Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC (the Adviser) will begin transitioning the neutral asset allocation percentages to achieve the desired allocations. The Adviser may modify the fund's neutral asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. Fidelity® 500 Index Fund

Ticker: FXAIX

Gross expense ratio: 0.015% as of 04/29/2025

Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return (i.e., the combination of capital changes and income) performance of common stocks publicly traded in the United States.

Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in common stocks included in the S&P 500 Index, which broadly represents the performance of common stocks publicly traded in the United States. The fund may operate as a non-diversified fund, as defined under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (1940 Act), to the approximate extent the Index is non-diversified. The fund may therefore operate as non-diversified solely as a result of a change in relative market capitalization or index weighting of one or more constituents of the Index.

Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation. Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

The S&P 500 Index is a market capitalization-weighted index of 500 common stocks chosen for market size, liquidity, and industry group representation to represent U.S. equity performance.

Returns prior to May 4, 2011 are those of the Premium Class and reflect the Premium Class' expense ratio. Had the Institutional Premium Class' expense ratio been reflected, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity® Government Money Market Fund Class K6

Ticker: FNBXX

Gross expense ratio: 0.27% as of 06/28/2025

Objective: Seeks as high a level of current income as is consistent with preservation of capital and liquidity.

Strategy: Normally investing at least 99.5% of total assets in cash, U.S. Government securities and/or repurchase agreements that are collateralized fully (i.e., collateralized by cash or government securities). Investing in U.S. Government securities issued by entities that are chartered or sponsored by Congress but whose securities are neither issued nor guaranteed by the U.S. Treasury. Investing in compliance with industry-standard regulatory requirements for money market funds for the quality, maturity, liquidity and diversification of investments. In addition the Adviser normally invests at least 80% of the fund's assets in U.S. Government securities and repurchase agreements for those securities.

Risk: You could lose money by investing in the fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. An investment in the fund is not a bank account and is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Fidelity Investments and its affiliates, the fund's sponsor, are not required to reimburse money market funds for losses, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time, including during periods of market stress. Interest rate increases can cause the price of a money market security to decrease. A decline in the credit quality of an issuer or a provider of credit support or a maturity-shortening structure for a security can cause the price of a money market security to decrease.

Fidelity's government and U.S. Treasury money market funds will not impose a fee upon the sale of your shares.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who has a low tolerance for investment risk and who wishes to keep the value of his or her investment relatively stable. Someone who is seeking to complement his or her bond and stock fund holdings in order to reach a particular asset allocation.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

On January 24, 2018, an initial offering of the Fidelity Government Money Market Fund - Class K6 took place. Returns and expenses prior to that date are those of the Fidelity Government Money Market Fund. Had Fidelity Government Money Market Fund - Class K6 class expenses been reflected in the returns shown, total returns would have been higher.

Fidelity is reimbursing a portion of the fund's expenses. If Fidelity had not, the returns would have been lower.

Fidelity® Inflation-Protected Bond Index Fund

Ticker: FIPDX

Gross expense ratio: 0.05% as of 03/01/2025

Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of the inflation-protected sector of the United States Treasury market.

Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in inflation-protected debt securities included in the Bloomberg U.S. Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS) Index. The index is a market value-weighted index that measures the performance of inflation-protected securities issued by the U.S. Treasury. Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Bloomberg U.S. Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPS) Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure.

Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Increases in real interest rates can cause the price of inflation-protected debt securities to decrease. Interest payments on inflation-protected debt securities can be unpredictable. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as transaction costs, sample selection, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income and who can tolerate more frequent changes in the size of income distributions than those usually found with more conservative bond funds. Someone who is seeking to supplement his or her core fixed-income holdings with a bond investment that is tied to changes in inflation.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

The Bloomberg U.S. TIPS Index is an unmanaged index designed to represent securities that protect against adverse inflation and provide a minimum level of real return. To be included in this index, bonds must have cash flows linked to an inflation index, be sovereign issues denominated in U.S. currency, and have more than one year to maturity, and, as a portion of the index, total a minimum amount outstanding of 100 million U.S. dollars.

Duration is a measure of a security's price sensitivity to changes in interest rates. Duration differs from maturity in that it considers a security's interest payments in addition to the amount of time until the security reaches maturity, and also takes into account certain maturity shortening features (e.g., demand features, interest rate resets, and call options) when applicable. Securities with longer durations generally tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than securities with shorter durations. A fund with a longer average duration generally can be expected to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than a fund with a shorter average duration.

Fidelity® Mid Cap Index Fund

Ticker: FSMDX

Gross expense ratio: 0.025% as of 06/28/2025

Objective: The fund seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of stocks of mid-capitalization United States companies.

Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Russell Midcap Index. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Investments in smaller companies may involve greater risks than those in larger, more well-known companies.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation. Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the generally greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

The Russell Mid Cap Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of the 800 smallest companies in the Russell 1000 Index, which represent approximately 26% of the total market capitalization of the Russell 1000 Index.

Fidelity® Real Estate Index Fund

Ticker: FSRNX

Gross expense ratio: 0.07% as of 09/29/2025

Objective: The fund seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of equity REITs and other real estate-related investments.

Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the MSCI US IMI Real Estate 25/25 Index. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Changes in real estate values or economic downturns can have a significant negative effect on issuers in the real estate industry. The value of securities of issuers in the real estate industry can be affected by changes in real estate values and rental income, property taxes, interest rates, tax and regulatory requirements, and the management skill and creditworthiness of the issuer. The performance of the fund and its index may vary somewhat due to factors such as fees and expenses of the fund, transaction costs, sample selection, regulatory restrictions, and timing differences associated with additions to and deletions from its index.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is willing to accept the potentially lower diversification and higher risks associated with investing in a particular industry or sector. Someone who is seeking to complement his or her core holdings with investments concentrated in a particular sector or industry.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

The MSCI US IMI Real Estate 25/25 Index measures U.S. publicly traded real estate securities. It screens for market cap, liquidity and percentage of revenue derived from ownership and operation of real estate securities. It is float-adjusted market cap weighted. It is quoted in USD.

Fidelity® Small Cap Index Fund

Ticker: FSSNX

Gross expense ratio: 0.025% as of 06/28/2025

Objective: The fund seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of stocks of small-capitalization United States companies.

Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of assets in securities included in the Russell 2000 Index. Lending securities to earn income for the fund.

Risk: Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. Investments in smaller companies may involve greater risks than those in larger, more well-known companies.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation. Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the generally greater volatility of investments in smaller companies.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

The Russell 2000® Index is an unmanaged market capitalization weighted index measuring the performance of the smallest 2,000 companies in the Russell 3000 index.

Fidelity® U.S. Bond Index Fund

Ticker: FXNAX

Gross expense ratio: 0.025% as of 10/30/2025

Objective: Seeks to provide investment results that correspond to the aggregate price and interest performance of the debt securities in the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index.

Strategy: Normally investing at least 80% of the fund's assets in bonds included in the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. The Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index is a broad based, flagship benchmark that measures the investment grade, US dollar-denominated, fixed-rate taxable bond market. The index includes Treasuries, government-related and corporate securities, mortgage-backed securities (agency fixed-rate pass-throughs), asset-backed securities and collateralized mortgage-backed securities (agency and non-agency). Using statistical sampling techniques based on duration, maturity, interest rate sensitivity, security structure, and credit quality to attempt to replicate the returns of the Index using a smaller number of securities. Engaging in transactions that have a leveraging effect on the fund, including investments in derivatives - such as swaps (interest rate, total return, and credit default) and futures contracts - and forward-settling securities, to adjust the fund's risk exposure. Investing in Fidelity's central funds (specialized investment vehicles used by Fidelity funds to invest in particular security types or investment disciplines) consistent with the asset classes discussed above.

Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund can invest in securities that may have a leveraging effect (such as derivatives and forward-settling securities) which may increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price. Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

The Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index is an unmanaged market value-weighted index for U.S. dollar denominated investment-grade fixed-rate debt issues, including government, corporate, asset-backed, and mortgage-backed securities with maturities of at least one year. Duration is a measure of a security's price sensitivity to changes in interest rates. Duration differs from maturity in that it considers a security's interest payments in addition to the amount of time until the security reaches maturity, and also takes into account certain maturity shortening features (e.g., demand features, interest rate resets, and call options) when applicable. Securities with longer durations generally tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than securities with shorter durations. A fund with a longer average duration generally can be expected to be more sensitive to interest rate changes than a fund with a shorter average duration. Had the Institutional Premium Class' expense ratio been reflected, total returns would have been higher.

First Eagle Global Fund Class R6

Ticker: FEGRX

Gross expense ratio: 0.79% as of 03/01/2025

Objective: The investment seeks long-term growth of capital.

Strategy: The fund normally invests its assets primarily in common stocks (and securities convertible into common stocks) of U.S. and foreign companies. Investment decisions for the fund are made without regard to the capitalization (size) of the companies in which it invests. The fund may invest in any size company, including large, medium and smaller companies. It may also invest in debt instruments without regard to credit rating or time to maturity, short-term debt instruments, gold and other precious metals, and futures contracts related to precious metals.

Risk: Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking to invest in a fund that invests in both domestic and international stocks and bonds. Someone who is seeking the potential both for income and for long-term share-price appreciation and who is willing to accept the potentially greater volatility of the foreign bond and stock markets.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Invesco Comstock Fund Class R6

Ticker: ICSFX

Gross expense ratio: 0.44% as of 08/28/2025

Objective: The investment seeks total return through growth of capital and current income.

Strategy: The fund invests, under normal circumstances, at least 80% of its net assets (plus any borrowings for investment purposes) in common stocks, and in derivatives and other instruments that have economic characteristics similar to such securities.

Risk: Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation. Someone who is comfortable with the volatility of large-cap stocks and value-style investments.

Invesco International Growth Fund Class R6

Ticker: OIGIX

Gross expense ratio: 0.73% as of 02/28/2025

Objective: The investment seeks capital appreciation.

Strategy: The fund mainly invests in the common stock of growth companies that are domiciled or have their primary operations outside of the United States. It may invest 100% of its assets in securities of foreign companies. The fund may invest in emerging markets as well as in developed markets throughout the world. It normally will invest at least 65% of its total assets in common and preferred stocks of issuers in at least three different countries outside of the United States, and emphasize investments in common stocks of issuers that are considered by the portfolio managers to have potential for earnings or revenue growth.

Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Growth stocks can perform differently from the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking to complement a portfolio of domestic investments with international investments, which can behave differently. Someone who is willing to accept the higher degree of risk associated with investing overseas.

Invesco Value Opportunities Fund Class R6

Ticker: VVOSX

Gross expense ratio: 0.67% as of 08/28/2025

Objective: The investment seeks total return through growth of capital and current income.

Strategy: The fund normally invests in a portfolio of common stocks, preferred stocks and convertible securities. The fund may invest in securities of issuers of any market capitalization; however, under normal market conditions, it invests a substantial portion of its assets in securities of mid-capitalization issuers. The fund may invest up to 10% of its net assets in real estate investment trusts (REITs) and up to 25% of its net assets in securities of foreign issuers, including securities of issuers located in emerging markets countries.

Risk: Value stocks can perform differently than other types of stocks and can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. These risks may be magnified in foreign markets. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Lord Abbett International Equity Fund Class R6

Ticker: LICVX

Gross expense ratio: 0.64% as of 03/01/2025

Objective: The investment seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Strategy: The fund invests a majority of its assets in a diversified portfolio of equity securities of large foreign companies that the portfolio managers believe are undervalued. Under normal conditions, it invests at least 80% of its net assets, plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes, in equity securities. A large company is defined as a company included among the largest 80% of companies in terms of market capitalization at the time of investment in the MSCI ACWI ex USA[®] Index.

Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

PGIM Core Bond Fund- Class R6

Ticker: TPCQX

Gross expense ratio: 0.36% as of 09/29/2025

Objective: The investment seeks total return.

Strategy: The fund invests, under normal circumstances, at least 80% of the fund's investable assets in bonds. For purposes of this policy, bonds include all fixed income securities, including but not limited to debt obligations issued by the U.S. government and its agencies, corporate debt securities, mortgage-related securities, asset-backed securities and other investments (including derivatives) with similar economic characteristics.

Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price. Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option.

PIMCO Income Fund Institutional Class

Ticker: PIMIX

Gross expense ratio: 0.54% as of 08/01/2025

Objective: The investment seeks to maximize current income; long-term capital appreciation is a secondary objective.

Strategy: The fund invests at least 65% of its total assets in a multi-sector portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments of varying maturities, which may be represented by forwards or derivatives such as options, futures contracts or swap agreements. It may invest up to 50% of its total assets in high yield securities rated below investment grade by Moody's, S&P or Fitch, or if unrated, as determined by PIMCO.

Risk: The fund may invest in lower-quality debt securities that involve greater risk of default or price changes due to potential changes in the credit quality of the issuer. In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price. Someone looking for a fund investing in a mix of bonds that range from conservative to high risk and who can tolerate the risks associated with fixed-income investments.

This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the mutual fund. Read the fund's prospectus for more detailed information about the fund.

Before investing in any investment option, consider the investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. Contact Fidelity for a mutual fund prospectus or, if available, a summary prospectus. Read them carefully.

For a mutual fund, the expense ratio is the total annual fund or class operating expenses (before waivers or reimbursements) paid by the fund and stated as a percentage of the fund's total net assets. Expense ratios change periodically and are drawn from the fund's prospectus. For more detailed fee information, see the fund prospectus or annual or semiannual reports.
